SUMMER BOOKS .- The season when it is least of all agreeable, and we may say, with certain truth, proper to indulge in that degree of literary labor that becomes other periods of the year, is with us. It is not befitting that men should read philosophy or attempt to solve problems when the thermometer gives evidence of insanity. Nor is it just to the humor of any of us, however stoical, that history (without it has the charm of Prescott or the grace of Irving or the eloquence of Motley or the indescribable attractiveness of Bancroft) be particularly fascinating. There is, however, a certain class of works hich our fecund American press seems never tired of giving utterance. They are of that light, agreeable, and entertaining species of which one can read, without scarcely thinking, while his mind is at the same time most pleasantly relieved and elevated. These are the books to indulge in upon these hot, lazy, sunny afternoons-to doze and dream and sleep over, and awake refreshed, with a lingering idea of something sweet and agreeable having stolen upon your slumbers. It is of this class one ought to store his carpet sack and enter upon his summer journeyings-reading them in the shade, where the woods whisper and the rivulets run riot with musical tones.

Of this sort of literature several specimens have been laid upon our table by Messrs. Morton & Griswold of Main street. We have now only time and space to mention two from Harper & Brothers of Friday night. It appears that the money was in his New York.

Boat Life in Egypt is a delightful transcript of a voyage up the Nile, as far as the Second Cataract, by a party of Americans in their own boat, of which expedition Mr. W. C. Prime was the eloquent and truthful historiographer. Long ago we became acquainted with Mr. P.'s many excellencies as an author. His "Old House by the River," and another of his tender, faithful, yet wild narratives of life, as witnessed by him, remote from the gay crowds of cities, deeply impressed us with his abilities. A year or two ago it was his most excellent fortune to marro and, accompanied by his wife and friends, a the tour of Europe and the East. In Egypt he lingered many months. Rather did he loiter along the banks of that stream which has been ancient and hallowed since history began its record of man. Mr. Prime views Egypt with a poet's eye But he is too much of a scholar to sink sentimentalism beneath historic truth. As he sings in his own sweet, placid numbers, he teaches us great, invaluable truths. His archaelogical facts are of the deepest interest, and, although differing from other scholars, he sustains his position in the most able Leaving Egypt, Mr. Prime and his lady quitted their charming boat and entered upon those sacred scenes which have so long rendered Syria the Holy Land of every true Christian. Their "Tent Life" was a joyful episode in their young existences. Together they journeyed along the path so often trod by the Saviour. They lingered over Nazareth where He was cradled- hey sailed over the blue Galilee where He had calmed storms-they bathed in the Jordan where He was baptized, and lovingly studied that Jerusalem over which in the agony of His spirit He had wept. These travelers plucked reses of Sharon and gathered lilies from the plains of Judea-whatever, indeed, there was reminiscent of the footsteps of the Holy One they gathered and treasured with pious, holy care.

Mr. Prime has a delightfully easy and graceful style. He is deeply imbued with the religious sen timent-being a member of the notable family of the New York Observer-and yet is never morose never gloomy; always lively, cheerful, and agreea-

Owing to apprehended difficulties and constant depredations of the Indians, the Secretary of War has ided to send an increased force of troops to Minnesota, and Gen. Scott is now engaged preparing the orders, &c.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river had risen 3 inches up to last evening There were then 4 feet 4 inches water in the canal The City of Cairo arrived yesterday. She reports that the only boat aground was the Empire City, and she was high and dry on Cottonwood bar. The mailbcat reports the river at a stand at Cincinnati.

The Superior, Capt. Summons, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day. The City of Cairo is up for Cairo. She is in charge of Capt. Wood, formerly of the D. A. Given, who is an experienced boatman. The Arkansas Traveler, thoroughly repaired, is up for Hickman and Memphis. The D. A. Given is also just out of the dock, and has been newly painted. She is advertised for Memphis. The W. A. Eaves leaves for Evansville this evening. The Eaves runs in connection with the Bowling Green, and will take Green river freight, with the privilege of reshipment, as far as Rumsey. Ky.

The fine steamer Mariner is up for Pittsburg. The Dove will leave for Hentucky river this eve ning.

HAIL STORMS, &c. - A correspondent of the Georgia Empire State, writing from Zebulon, states that on the 13th inst. a very destructive hail storm passed over a portion of Pike county, literally destroying the cotton crop on several plantations, and stripping the blades off of the corn. The storm was accompanied with the heaviest thunder and most vivid lightning. The correspondent says that for twenty-four hours after it fell the hail could be seen in the woods and panels of the fences to the depth of three or four inches.

The vicinity of Fredericksburg, Va., was visited by another tremendous storm last Monday, accompanied by some hail and terrific lightning and thunder. The Fredericksburg Herald says:

The streets were scourged by the descending flood trees were blown down—corn was beaten to the trees were blown down—corn was beaten to the ground, and wheat stacks scattered. Our bridge was almost blown away—the railing and many planks were disledged. The runs in Stafford were swollen and impassable for horses—a cow was struck by lightning down town—as also Mr. Griffin's house near the Gas Works. He was stunned and his wife knocked down. Mr. W. Slaughter's barn was also stuck. We learn that the storm extended to Culpepper, and was very severe—with the usual consequences of course. ences of course.

The army bug is making sad havoc on some of the rice plantations in South Carolina. On the plantation of Mr. Daniel Heyward, in Prince William's Parish, in a field of one hundred acres, eighty-five have been destroyed. Mrs. Eustis, residing in the same neighborhood, has lost entirely a field of one hundred acres. Others in the same vicinity have suffered to a more or less extent.

The Savannah (Georgia) Republican of the 21st says that rains have recently fallen in almost every section of the State, and that the drooping hopes of our planters are greatly revived. Crops are very backward, but are now healthy and growing off finely. The grain crop will almost certainly be abundant, but with the usual fall cotton is obliged to fall short of an average.

The bodies of the two Irish girls and of the Irishman who were drowned in the river on Friday night, by the upsetting of a skiff in which they were riding, as mentioned in the Journal of Saturday, were recovered yesterday through the exertions of Lieut. Watkins, of the Louisville Artillery, who fired the cannon Saturday and Sunday for that purpose. The upsetting of the skiff was caused by one of the giris becoming alarmed by the waves made by a descending steamboat, the Dr. Kane.

ROBBERY IN NEW ALBANY .- The Ledger says that Mr. Perdue, of the firm of Reamer & Perdue who lives on Spring street, between Lower Fourth and Fifth, was robbed of about $100 in money or pocket loose, and upon going to bed he put his pants between the feather bed and mattrass on which he slept, and when he got up he found the money gone and the window open.

It is some consolation to us of the present generation to find that our ancestors were not more griftless than our-selves of those crimes and vices for which we are so con-stantly reproached.—Cincinnati Enguirer.

What fine children those must be who can console themselves to their villainy by the reflection that their fathers before them were as great villains as themselves.

THACKERAY FOR PARLIAMENT .- A telegraphic abstract of foreign news from St. Johns, says that Mr. Thackeray has been nominated for Parliament from Oxford-whether from the city or the University is not stated, but probably from the city, as Thackeray was educated at Cambridge, and Oxford University would prefer to send an Oxonian to Par-CHICAGO POST OFFICE STATISTICS -The yearly expense of the post office at Chicago amounts to about $74,000. There are 87 clerks engaged in the office, at an average salary of $700. There are in the office 3,122 boxes, which rent at $8,298 a year, and 342 drawers, which rent at $2,620. The receipts for the last quarter are stated at $200,000.

The owners of the steamships Washington and Hermann, which have been running between New York and Bremen, have resolved not to run them any longer. It is understood they are to be sold for the benefit of the stockholders. They are both good strong built ships, but as is well known not quite up to the present age in point of speed.

THE NEW INDIANA STATE BANK .- One of th most remarkable facts presented in the semi-annual statement of the President of the new State Bank

he residence of Mr. Mitchell, on Grayson street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, was entered during STOCK OF BAGGING .- The stock of Kentucky bagging in this market on Saturday, as ascertained from actual count, was 8,829 pieces, two half pieces being counted one. This is a smaller stock than was generally supposed.

THE MINNESOTA CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION. Apprehended War with the Indians .- The St. Louis Republican of Saturday publishes the following among its telegraph dispatches:

St. PAUL, M. T., via Dubuque, July 24. The dual-headed Constitutional Convention is still in session. The Republicans are in convention in the Hall, with A. D. Balcome for President, and the Democrats in the Council Chamber, presided over by H. H. Sibley. The Republicans number 59 members, all of whom have presented their credentials, which have been accepted and the members caughtful.

afternoon, but the course resolved on is not yet apparent; but it seems probable now that both bodies will continue to insist that it is the Constitutional Convention, and both will form and adopt a Constitution to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection.

A man just arrived from the Sioux Agency on the Minnesota reports that the negotiations with the Indians have now assumed a belligerent as:ect, and war with them is inevitable. The refusal on the part of the Superintendent to pay the annuities until the Sioux shall deliver to him the Inkpaduta bands caused great difficulty. About 10,000 Indians of the Upper Sioux, Cutheads, Yanktons, and Mowakantons, have assumed a hostile attitude, to appease whom there are only two hundred troops.

The Indians are very bold and defiant, having surrounded the whole body of troops on the 18th, inviting them to fight. They are well armed.

The houses of the missionaries, Revs. Riggs and Williamson, are guarded by friendly Indians.

Col. Noble's Pacific Wagon Road party are encamped on the Big Sioux, and prepared for successful resistance should they be attacked. A man just arrived from the Sioux Agency on the NOMINATION IN MARYLAND .- The Baltimore Patriot of Thursday afternoon says:

It will be seen by the proceedings of the American Maryland Gubernatorial Convention, held in Balti-more to-day, that the Hon. Thomas Holliday Hicks, nore to-day, that the front Homas Homas Homas Homes of Dorchester county, was nominated a candidate for Governor on the seventh ballot. This is a good selection. Mr. Hicks is well and fovorally known throughout the State as a gentleman commanding high respect, deserved influence, and, if elected, of which there is no doubt, will make a superior officer.

A WELL-TO-DO BEGGAR .- The Montgomery Mail of the 11th inst. says:

of the 11th inst. says:

Officers Tyler and Reid, of the city police, overhauled a man yesterday, originally from Wales, who says he fought the battles of our country in Mexico, and desires a small donation to enable him to remove a wife and three children from Maryland to Missouri, where he owns 160 acres of land. His name is John Bunn. In the possession of Mr. Bunn were found drafts and certificates of deposit on sundry banks to the amount of $5,517 49.

SHOCKING CONDUCT .- The Murfreesboro' (Tenn.) News gives the following:

We have been informed that on last Friday a Mr We have been informed that on last Friday a Mr. Wrather, who lives north of this place, corrected for some fault a female slave. She left the premises, but returned at night and destroyed her three children by hanging two and drowning the other in a well. She then took her own life by hanging herself to the post on which the sweep-pole of the well rested. The woman was in an advanced state of pregnancy when she performed this horrid work.

The catalogue comprised some eight hundred and seventy-five packages of the Pepperell Company's bleached and brown Sheetings.

The entire product of the mills to the date of the sale were sold off by Messrs. Francis Skinner & Co., of Boston and New York. Previous to the sale the announcement was made that one-half of the looms were now stopped and the balance were shortly to be stopped, but this fact appears to have but little effect upon buyers, as the 300ds sold far below the expectations of holders.

The sale attracted a large concourse of the principal buyers in the trade, as might be expected from the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known character of the goods, and also the fact of the well known countries and only for a short measure.

RECOVERY OF THE DEAD BODY OF A BURGLAR WHO WAS SHOT BY A YOUNG WOMAN—A CURIOUS Case.—On Monday night the grocery store of P Fingler, of York avenue, Statan Island, was entered by burglars, who were about to carry off a large amount of property, when they were discovered by young woman who slept in the rear of the store. The burglar on hearing her approach attempted to escape, but the young lady, with noparalleled pressence of mind and bravery, caught up a loaded pistol which was hanging in the store and tired at the retreating burglar, who finally made his escape. The lady then aroused Mr. Fingler, who slept overhead, and with his assistance closed the store. Nothing was heard of the affair until Wednesday afternoon, when the body of a man was discovered floating in the bay near Clifton; it was made fast to the shore by a fisherman, and Justice Meach was notified to hold an inquest, which took place immediately.

After a few minutes deliberation, the Jury rendered the following verdict:

"We find that the deceased came to his death from pistol-shot wounds received at the hands of Jane

DEATH OF RICHARD SOUTHGATE.—Richard Southgate, one of the oldest settlers of our sister city of Newport (Ky.) died at his residence in that city yesterday afternoon at four o'clock after a lingering illness. He was 83 years of age, having been born on the 23d of January, 1774. He read law at Albany, New York, and while pursuing his studies, had frequent opportunities of seeing Alexander Hamilton, Aaron Burr and many of the men of that day, whose histories have since become connected with that of the country.

of that day, whose histories have since become connected with that of the country.

He came to Newport about 60 years ago, and was among the earliest lawyers in Kentucky. At that day he was also engaged in the mercantile business. As a lawyer, he was esteemed for his clear, sound judgment, but was not an eloquent speaker. He was several times elected to the Legislature of Kentucky, both to the Senate and House, but did not stump the district as men do now-a-days, and is said never to have solicited a vote.

Nowactays, and vote.

He was plain and simple in his habits, never spending anything unnecessarily, but was remarkably just. He was bland and courteous in his manners, and very sincere.

By his economy, prudence, and sagacity he amassed property estimated at about a million of dollars, most of which is in real estate, lying in Cincinnati, Covington, and Newport, and in the vicinity of the two lutter.

The funeral will trke place from his late residence in Newport, on Sunday afternoon, at 4 o'clock.

RUMORED ATTACK UPON THE NOBLES EXPEDITION.—Information was received in this city on Wednesday to the effect that Col. Nobles expeditions.

TION.—Information was received in this city on Wednesday to the effect that Col. Nobles' expedition to lay out an emigrant road from Fort Ridgely to the South Pass had been met at the crossing of the Big Sioux by a large party of Yankton Indians, and their passage across that stream resisted. Col. Nobles' party was not sufficient to force a pissage, and he fell back to the east side of the river, where he threw up temporary defences, and dispatched to Fort Ridgely for assistance.

The Yanktons aumber over 140 lodges, and we presume about that number of warriors, although rumor puts the number down at 500. Col. Nobles' party consists of seventy-five men, well armed with Sharpe's rifles and revolvers. In addition to this force there are twenty-five men in the employ of the Dakota Land Association, in the immediate neighborhood of Col. Nobles; they are well armed and efficient men, and could easily effect a junction with Col. N.'s expedition. One hundred men, as well armed and efficiently commanded as this party is, can easily defend themselves against five times their number. We do not think, therefore, that any apprehensions need be entertained by those having friends with Col. Nobles.

Major Sherman's battery of flying artillery and one company of infantry is the entire force on our frontier. It is entirely too small for aggressive purposes, and barely sufficient for defensive operations.

DISGRACEFUL PROCEEDINGS.—A desperate affray occurred on Monday night about 9 o'clock, in the vicinity of Bond and Lancaster streets, in which guns, pistols, and every available missile were used. The fight was between two parties who rally under the titles of Rough Skins and Double Pumps. The Rough Skins allege that they were first assaulted by being shot at from a cigar store kept by Michael Pfetzer, near the corner above named, the resort of the Double Pumps. Two shots were fired, by which two men were shot, Wm. Snyder, living on the causeway, received two balls, one in the breast and the other in the thigh, the former being the least dangerous.

The Latest from Father Chinquy. — It is stated in the Journal de L'Illinois that Sunday before last the excommunicated priest preached on "Freedom of Conscience, according to true Catholic principles." He held forth in the vast hall of the Court of Justice, in Kaukakee city, in presence of a crowded meeting in which was seen the elite of the American and French citizens of the place and neighborhood. The sermon of Father Chiniquy is to be published in the above paper, which offers to Rev. Mr. Champaux, the priest of the Hierarchy, to publish also a sermon he preached on the same day to extol the virtues of Bishop O'Regan. From the same source we learn also that the Romish priest of Galesburg, Illinois, has fallen into the same diagrace as Father Chiniquy, and for the same causes, he having refused to make over to the Bishop of Chicago the deed of the lot on which his church is built. He is consequently removed from the priesthood, and, after the example of Father Chiniquy, has used the press in self-defence, and published against the tyramy of his bishop a strong letter, which cuts him off from all hope of episcopal forgiveness, and places him in a position similar to that of M. Chiniquy. giveness, and places him in a position similar to that of M. Chiniquy.

The Fredericton Bank Robbery.—Savage, one of the men arrested for the robbery of the Central Bank at Fredericton, N. B., proves to be no less a personage than the notorious robber John W. Rand, whose deeds of rascality are known to the police of every city in the Union. He is the person who several years since robbed Stickney, the driver of the Boston and Quincy stage, of several thousand dollars, all of which was subsequently recovered. Since that period he has robbed one or more banks in New Hampshire, and some two years since was arrested in this city for robbing a bank in Virginia, to which state he was taken and imprisoned, but broke jail, and now he is in a fair way to meet his just deserts in New Brunswick. Although the stolen money has not been recovered, we learn from a reliable source that Kand and his two companions in crime cannot escape conviction, the evidence of their guilt being perfectly conclusive.

A Waman Tarred and Feathered—The Winsted

A Woman Tarred and Feathered —The Winsted (Coun.) Herald says that one night last week several women in or near the village of Colebrook river, having blacked their faces and otherwise disguised themselves, proceeded to the house of Mr. Honduras, will not be consummated. It is thought that England's policy is to make Honduras feel the want of protection and her insecurity without it, and on this ground obtain the refusal of Honduras to ratify the treaty, though other motives will be given for the act. At last accounts the legislative committees had come to no conclusion on the subject, and England still holds out this excuse for not ratifying the Dallas-Clarendon treaty. head and other portions of her body, dashed her with tar and feathers. It is more lately believed that no women were engaged in the shameful, cruel outrage upon humanity, decency, and haw, but that the perpetrators were men disguised in female clothing. The apology for the transaction is that the girl was a shameless wanton; but we can imagine no offense against decency so calculated to defile the conversation and character of a community as this outrage upon a garl, especially if upheld or sanctioned in any degree by otherwise respectable men and women.

A Negro Appointed to Office the Wisconsin—Secretary of State Refuses to File the Bond—On the 9th day of July, 1857, a commission, as notary public, was issued by Gov. Bashiord to H. Nolan—a person of nut brown complexion and negro extraction, who has resided in this city many years as barber, ice-cream saloon keeper, and leader of a cotillion band. He also invented the "capitaluvium," and "tricopherous," two varieties of "dog-waters" in general use and circulation for the hair. The commission is issued with all the proper formalities, and the bond reand circulation for the fair. The commission is study with all the proper formalities, and the bond required by law is signed by Wm. H. Nolan, and by Wm. B. Jarvis as bondsman. But the Secretary of State, Col. Jones, refuses to file the bond, and on it we find the following endorsement: "This appointment is in violation of the constitution and therefore violation." MEN DRESSMAKERS .- A correspondent of the New York Times, writing from Frankfort, Germany, says: 'Men mantua-makers and milliners in Germany are as common as men-tailors, and if a man-tailor is the ninth part of a man, we have wondered what part of a man must be a man milliner. One day, where we were sitting, a man came in with a dress basted ready to try on. Well, we confess we looked with all our eyes, wondering what would be done. But there was no hesitation-the lady took the robe to her room and put it on, returning in full dress sans sleeves. The man examined it to see where it needed altering, took it in on the shoulders, pinched up the biasses, and laid the plaits, evidently used to his business, and evidently, as the lady said he was, an excellent dressmaker, and also that dresses made by men kept their place better and lasted longer than dresses made by women. How would it do to reverse the system and let women measure men for coats and pants?"

IMPORTANT MOVEMENTS IN THE GRAPE AND WINE CULTURE IN THE UNITED STATES. - The Commissioner of Patents has set apart a portion of the funds last appropriated by Congress for agricultural purposes, for obtaining cuttings of all the native wild grape vines of the United States, to be placed in the hands of practical cultivators, with a view of testing their adaptation to the soil and climate of the other sections of the Union, and determining their value for table use and for making wine. Major H. C. Williams, of Fairfax county, Virginia, has been chosen to select the cuttings of the vines of Arkansas and Texas, and of the neighboring Territories, and obtain certain information connected with their growth and locality, which are to be employed in carrying out said experiment.

A NEW WAY TO HATCH CHICKENS,-The Irasburg (Vt.) Standard says that Dr. M. L. Scott, of Glover, had a hen lay a dozen or more of eggs on a pile of horse manure, under the barn, and some manure was thrown over them, when the heat of the pile acting upon the eggs hatched out eleven chick ens. They are all alive and doing well.

The following application for a post-office has been received by the Post-Office Department from an obscure town in Tennessee, as we are assured by a Washington journal. We trust that the request was granted:

To Gov. Brown, Postmaster General:

To Gov. Brown, Postmaster General:

DEAR SIR: We, a portion of your old constituents who delighted to honor you—we truly need a friend. Are you a friend? Are you? If there is a place on God's green earth that needs or deserves a post-office, it is this portion of the country. How long must it be so? In our list you have the names of some old pioneers (and their children) whose sires gloried in defending a soil that had no government save that of George the Third. Yes! before this fair fabric was built, some of our own fathers periled their lives for George the Third. Yes! before this fair fabric was built, some of our own fathers periled their lives for our sake. Our Government was formed. They and we have supported it by our hard-earned but cheerfully-given taxes ever since. The wheels roll on to 1812. The lion roars again. To whom did our leader say, "By the eternal, that will never de!" To our fathers and our brothers. They, on the bloody field, shoulder to shoulder, gave the grand quietus to his last growl. Later still we have the names of those who periled their own lives in Mexico. Nor is that all. We not only defend our country, help to fill the treasury, but we come up to the right end of the ballot-box and elect the Wright sort of men. We spurn flattery as we do the isms of the day. We know what we say when we ask you to imagine what our hopes were not long since, when an old, hard-fisted farmer, who had paid tax s to his Government half a century, cheerfully stopped his horse and boy to send 12 miles to the office for his paper, to see who was Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet. Must that old man, "who has fought the good fight, kept the faith," given the lie to the stale (N. Y.) charge, that "rewho was Mr. Buchanan's Cabinet. Must that old man, "who has fought the good fight, kept the faith," given the lie to the stale (N. Y.) charge, that "republics are ungrateful?" We repeat, must such old men go down to their graves, asking their Government, not for "loaves and fishes," but the simple pittance of a one-horse weekly mail, that they may regist out to their children that height galaxy and pittance of a one-horse weekly mail, that they may point out to their children the bright galaxy, and, as star by star take their positions, hear him exclaim, I was once almost in despair, but we have at last got the only boon I ever asked of my country. Now, boys, read right, think right, live right, vote right, and you will die right. If you doubt one solitary sentence, ask our talented young member from this district (who all the fates cannot keep out of Congress) and he will tell you. Alas, it is too true! gress), and he will tell you. Alas, it is too true!

BULWER ON THE WEED AND WOMEN .- In his new work, now in course of publication, "What Will He Do With it?" Bulwer thus moralizes on "the weed and women:

He who doth not smoke hath either known great griefs, or refuseth himself the softest constion next to that which comes from heaven. "Wh great griefs, or refuseth himself the softest consola-tion next to that which comes from heaven. "What, softer than woman?" whispered the young reader. Young reader, woman teases as well as consoles. Woman makes half the sorrows which she boasts the privilege to soothe. Woman consoles us, it is true, while we are young and handsome; when we are old and ugly, woman snubs and scolds us. On the whole, then, woman in this scale, the weed in that, Jupiter, hang out thy balance, and weigh them both, and if thou give the preference to woman, all both, and if thou give the preference to woman, all I can say, is, the next time Juno ruffles thee, O Ju-

A SUCCESSFUL SURGICAL OPERATION. - Some time since a boy in this vicinity fell from a tree with an open penknife in his hand. He struck in such a manner as to force the blade through his ear and into his head. The blade broke off, leaving an inch and a quarter of its length buried out of sight in the substance of the head. The blade eventual in the substance of the head. The blade eventually passed into the brain. An application to several eminent surgeons in New York and elsewhere failed to bring relief. The case was at length brought to the attention of Dr. Middleton Goldsmith, of Castleton Medical College, who lately succeeded, by a delicate operation, in removing the blade. After the removal, the brain could be distinctly felt at the bettern of the earlier. bottom of the cavity. The hearing, which had been impaired, was entirely restored, and the boy is now as good as new.—Middlebury (Vt.) Register.

TREATY WITH PERSIA .- A letter from Constantinople says: The exchange of the ratifications of the Persia-United States Treaty took place some days ago, and Mr. Chas. Spencer will soon return to the United States with it. It is said that the Secretary of the Persian Mission here, Mirza Ahmed Khan, will be sent as Minister from the Shah to Washington. He is a fine gentleman, and will be much admired by the ladies of the United States. He wears a tall camel-skin Kulah on his head, a splendid cashmere round his waist, and a ruby on his little finger, enough to break any delicate heart.

Mr. Richelberg gave his one thousandth concert in the lager beer saloon of Mr. Wagner, in Berlin, recently. The proceeds of these one thousand concerts amounted to the pretty sum of forty-seven thousand Prussian thalers (twenty-seven thousand dollars.) As the admission was only two cents, these concerts, therefore, must have been visited by one million two hundred thousand persons. If we calculate that each person drank, at least, two mugs of beer, nearly ten thousand barrels of beer were consumed.

FROM MONTREAL—THE LATE CATHOLIC RIOTS THERE. MONTREAL, July 14, 1857.

Montreal, July 14, 1857.

As if the extreme heat of the weather was not sufficient to try the nerves of the unfortunate inhabitants of our city, now literally baked under a July sun, which has run the thermometer up to nearly 100 in the shade, we have been still further heated and excited by an endeavor, on the part of some of our unruly "fellow-citizens," to emulate the example of the "Dead Rabbits," and disgrace the streets of Montreal by such scenes of rioting and lawlessness as lately disgraced the streets of New York. Last Sunday was the 12th of July, the anniversary of the battle of the Boyne; and the Orangemen, it seems, were determined at all risks to make some public display in honor of that victory. Accordingly, in the morning they assembled in their lodge-room, which occupies the fourth story of the Odd Fellows' Hall, in Great St. James street, to the number of thirty or more, armed to the teeth, and number of thirty or more, armed to the teeth, and hung out an Orange banner, representing "King William of glorious memory" on horseback, or ne such device.

The banner soon began to attract attention, and raise the indignation of the Irish Roman Catholis, raise the indignation of the Irish Roman Catholics, who, toward 3 o'clock in the afternoon, assembled in large numbers in front of the building, and commenced firing brickbats and pistol shots at the obnoxious flag. The authorities, seeing every prospect of a desperate riot, unless some steps were taken to avert it, marched down a squad of policemen, and finally persuaded the Orange leader to take in the banner. This step was hailed by the mob below with a shout of triumph and derision, who then, the main cause of offense being removed, and probably not daring to attack the lodge, scattered through the neighborhood, and amused themselves by assaulting and beating or shooting any person whom they suspected of being an Orangeman or who chanced to be otherwise offensive to them. As the police never even pretended to interthem. As the police never even pretended to inter-fere, and would have proved perfectly useless had they done so, a good many persons were dangerous-ly beaten and wounded, some of them, it is feared, fatally.

On Monday night the Orangemen had a soirce or ball in the Odd Fellows' Hall, but, contrary to all expectations, the affair passed off without serious disturbance. This was owing to the fact that the hall was so situated as to be assailable only in front, was well defended, inside and out, by Orangemen and policemen, and the street before the door was kept clear by patrols of police. The mob assembled near the place, to the number of several thousand, but finding no chance of a successful riot there, turned their attention elsewhere, and commenced an attack set less the St. Charles Schoon, in the next street. turned their attention elsewhere, and commenced an attack on the St. Charles Saloon, in the next street, which was completely gutted. This saloon was kept by the Messrs. Carson, Orangemen, who had a narrow escape with their lives, as the mob attacked them without any warning, and poured a volley of pistol shots into the bar-room, where they were sitting with some friends and customers, before they were aware of their danger. Only one person, however, was injured, a boy of eight or ten years old, who received a slug in the arm.

It seems the mob, disappointed in their expectations of a victory over the Orangemen at their hall, were yet resolved to have some victims, and for the purpose of drawing them into their power, set fire to the saw-mill of Douglass Bros., in Griffintown, a part of the city inhabited almost entirely by the worst class of Irishmen. The watchman in the mills perished in the flames, and it is suspected that he was first beaten or shot by the incendiaries. The he was first beaten or shot by the incendiaries. The fire companies on their arrival were prevented from working, and two of them, the Union and Queen, who are composed principally of Protestants, were attacked and driven from their engines. Several were shot and others wounded reverely by brickbats and bludgeons. The disturbance was finally quelland bludgeons. The disturbance was finally quell-ed by the arrival of the water police, an efficient and well armed body of men.

"FIFTEEN YEARS IN HELL!"—As, with a stamp of the foot he dashed on the table the pen which of the foot he dashed on the table the pen which had made him a bankrupt and a beggar, was the exclamation of a gentleman of sixty, who had been born and reared in luxury and wealth. This excellent man, in the course of business, had become involved, but was hoping and striving as honorable men do, to "work out of his embarrasments;" and for all that long time, he did work, and worked hard—allowed himself no indulgences, sacrificed his large property freely, whenever necessary to meet "engagement." But all would not do, and closed the strife by saying, "I am old and poor and have no home."

Not long ago, a gentleman who had failed in poor and have no home."

Not long ago, a gentleman who had failed in business, but had subsequently paid all his debts, and was now acting in a capacity which, while it involved no pecuniary responsibility, was sufficient to enable him and his family to live comfortably, said, "I am one of the happiest men in New York, and no amount of money could induce me to repeat my former career. I could not do it. The efforts to keep up, the paper of our firm would now eat out to keep up the name of our firm would now eat out my mind."

Another gentleman, still in active business, who lives in his own house, and who is adding to his for-tune every year, said with the seriousness of a man who in a moment's retrospection had lived over the strifes of a quarter of a century of business: "Could I have known the day I entered New York, a boy, the cares and anxieties which I have had to encoun Manhattan Island and all that is upon it would not have presented the slightest inducement to undertake the task.

Within a month a gentleman, whose "house" in a single year cleared six hundred thousand dollars, has been sent to the lunatic asylum, and has since died, at an age but little beyond that at which men are fairly prepared to live to purpose. Little does the careless and penniless light-hearted passer-by of the splendid palace of Fifth Avenue, and Union Square and Fourteenth street, imagine what storms of passion and of fear, what wrecks of heart and hope, what withering of the sweet joys and anticipations of youth, what a drying-up of the better and purer feelings of our nature these stately mansions have sometimes cost their owners.

"What did that house cost?" is not an unfrequent inquiry. "I am ashamed to tell you;" or "more than it is worth," is a very common response. The true answer in many instances is, "It has cost me my

To maintain a good name at the bank, at the exchange, or on the "street," is an idolatry with many New Yorkers; and to that idol, rather than be sacrificed, men will offer heart, conscience, independ-ence, everything. A good name, certainly, can nev-er be overvalued; it is worth more than millions to the man in business; it is as much his duty as his interest to maintain it at any pecuniary cost, at any personal sacrifice, and it is highly creditable to our business community that so honorable a feeling generally prevails. But the error consists in mening themselves in positions which present the st est of all possible temptations to sacrifice independence and heart and conscience, in order to maintain their standing in the business world. Beyond all question, the universal error of the age in this coun question, the universal error of the age in this coun try is, "hasting to be rich;" and this neglect brings with it, in multitudes which we know of, the premature decay of body and mind together, and in the sweeping ruin carries with it down to death, truth, manliness, heart, conscience, all! confirming the saying, "They that will be rich fall into temptation and appare and into many foolish and hurtful lusts." a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts, which drown men in destruction and perdition, which, while some men coveted after, they have erred from the faith and pierced themselves through with many sorrows." And again, "He that hasteth to be rich shall not be tunocent." "He that hasteth to be rich hath an evil eve and considereth not that to be rich hath an evil eye and considereth not that poverty shall come upon him."

GETTING IN HAY ON SUNDAY.—A case of Sabbath breaking was tried at South Windsor last Sunday before Justice John Moore. It appeared that Mr. D. G. Sperry, proprietor of the hotel in that place, had hay out, which had been wet in the storm previous to Sunday of last week. Sunday morning being clear, though there were indications of another storm which would have ruined the hay, it was properly put in the barn and saved. For doing this, Mr. Sperry and his seven assistants were prosecuted by Mr. Grand Juror Clapp. Wm. W. Eston, Esq., appeared for the defendant, and H. K. Welch, Esq., for the prosecution. The Justice dismissed the case as an unsound one—Mr. Sperry being justified in the evidence.

WHOSE BUSINESS IS IT?-There is a regular "hog wallow" (in which many of the hogs and pigs of the city luxuriate every day), on Jefferson street, near Fourth, in front of the new Masonic building. The attention of the Street Inspector has been drawn to it more than once, and still the nuisance not only remains but grows worse every day. Louisville has been much abused in the last two or three years with some truth and more slander. But whatever else may be said, let it not be stigmatised as a mere "hog hole."

A JACKASS ON AN ÆRIAL EXPEDIITON.-Parkinson's Garden was crowded, yesterday afternoon, by persons who were auxious to witness the experi-ment of carrying a jackass aloft into the upper re-gious. Mons. Godard had advertised his intention gions. Mons. Godard had advertised his intention of carrying up an asinine attachment to his ærial apparatus, and the oddity of the thing attracted a crowd, inside and outside of the garden. Jack was securely slung beneath the car of the balloon, and he put up with the harnessing with perfect equanimity, as a matter of course. In fact he seemed rather delighted than otherwise with the fanciful ribbons and feathers with which he was bedecked. ribbons and feathers with which he was bedecked. All went well until the order was given to "let go!" and then all other feelings in the mind of the jackass were merged into an emotion of profound astonishment. The sagacious animal had doubtless expected to be told in proper season to "get up!" but he had no idea of getting up in the manner arranged by Mons. G. Instead of starting off at a pleasant trot with the car, the latter started off with him, by Mons. G. Instead of starting off at a pleasant trot with the car, the latter started off with him, much to his surprise. Jack at first tried the old trick of planting his legs at an angle of about 50 degrees, with his boofs ahead of his body, in the ordegrees, with his boofs ahead of his body, in the orthodox style of resisting Jackasses; but that movement proving a lamentable failure, he drew up his legs, as if to get them out of the way as useless appendages. He then looked sagely around, first at the up-turned faces of the crowd, then at the housetops, and finally, finding all things else melting from view, he turned his exclusive attention to the inflated mass over his head. Jack was astonished, if ever a donkey was in this world. After the balloon had cleared the house tops, the aeronaut, who, with his wife, had been seated in the car, descended from the latter and took a seat on the back of the quadruped. The balloon, with its human and as inine freight, continued its journey through the air to Pennsville, continued its journey through the air to Pennsville, west of the Schuylkill.

At this point the party descended and landed Jack safely on terra firma. The animal was in fine order when he reached the earth, and he trotted round with an air indicating the importance of having made a

THE "DEAD MAN'S CASTLE."-Close to Utah Territory, northwest from Sacramento, is a curious rock, called by its discoverers the "Dead Man's Castle." It stands on the edge of a deep, precipitous canon, is about two hundred feet long, rises iperpendicularly to the height of seventy or eighty feet, pendicularly to the height of seventy or eighty feet, and at a distance looks as though it might have been the work of antique giants, who had set up turrets and dug out notches like windows. A stunted cedar stands sentinel on top, but it is old, storm-beaten, and drooping and threatens to tumble down. At the bottom there is a small grotto, some twenty feet in diameter, and extending up, probably, nearly to the top of the rock, whence descends a small stream of water, which has dug out a little reservoir at the base. The voice of the water is sweet and musical; it has been singing its monotonous song there for a thousand years. The name was applied to it from the circumstance of some bones, supposed to be human, being found in a cavity of the rock.

Dr. King's Dispensary

DR. A. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, bet. First and Second, nearly opposite the Graham House, Louisville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gonserhoea, Syphilia, and all diseases of the skin and other de rangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their cases to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

STRICTURES of old or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, brought on, in many cases, by the destructive habits of inconsiderate youth and excessive indulgence of the passions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject until for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

decided currently vegetable compound, prepared onstrictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave. Because of its great success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here ard there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowledged.

CAUTION.

The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has in-duced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these simitations.

hands of the Government.

In replying to Lindsay's motion, Palmerston said it was unusual for Government to produce correspondence between independent Governments. Mr. Marcy's letter to the French Government was not officially in the hands of the British Government and consequently could not be produced. The communication from the American to the French Government was made by the less Administratives. Government was made by the last Administra-tion of the United States, but the present Admin-istration had intimated that it did not wish to answer. Under these circumstances the House feel that the question couldn't be discussed properly and he hoped it wouldn't be pressed.

Lord Russell thought the Government ought to make a statement of the ground on which the engage-ment was entered into with other powers. He was afraid the consequences would prove very serious, but England was bound to them now.

Sir Napier thought if the agreement could not be broken, it would necessitate the blockading of every

The mutiny in India was spreading. Twenty-three regiments joined, but were defeated outside of Delhi, but they still held the city.

General Ancon, Commander-in-Chief, died of cholera. Sir Colin Campbell succeeds him.

The news from China is unimportant.
Italy and Spain are tranquil.
The details of the recently discovered conspiracy at Paris show that it was the most serious yet discovered. Massini, it is alleged, escaped in a ship carrying the American flag.

The fall of Delhi is looked for hourly. When the Indian mail left, the loss to the Bengal army consequent on the mutiny was estimated at thirty thousand; but it was believed the crisis was passed. The latest advices indicate that there were famine and desertion among the insurgents. Acting vice runsers and desertion among the insurgents. and desertion among the insurgents. Acting vigorously, Sir Colin Campbell started in a few hours for China. The frigate San Jacinto and an English gun-boat had gone up Canton river to attack the junks. Foo Chow Choo was quiet. Of the New York provision market, the Express of Friday says;

The market for mess pork is lower and the demand fair, with more desire on the part of holders to realize. Prime, which is comparatively scarce, is a shade b-tter; the sales amount in the acgregate to 1.85p bbls, closing at $240.24 is for m-ss, $19 40 for prime, $19 40($8:19 50 for prime mess, and $25 50($826 for clear. The market is nearly bare of cut meats, and there is little of moment doing in consequence; the nominal quotations are 10% for shoulders and 11½($611\frac{1}{3}\text{c}$ for hams. Bacon scarce and nominal in price; a lot of between 40% and 50% bys has just arrived per Centurion from Liverpool, having been reshipped tor want of a market there for i; smoked is stiff at 13c. Lard buoyant with a fair demand; sales of 250 bbls at 14½($6.5\frac{1}{3}\text{c}$c, the latter for small parcels of strictly prime.

Flour market continues steady, and the only sale heard was 100 bbls at $6 35 for low grade and superfine; after our report yesterday we heard of sales of 600 bbls at $6 40 (a.$6 50; the receipts in the last 24 hours were only 142 bbls. Whisky—sales of 194 bbls at 26c and 125 bbls from wagons at 26%, a further advance owing to light arrivals. Provi-sion market remains firm and inactive. Grocery market unchanged, with a good business doing in a small way at steady rates—sales of 35 hhds sugar were made at 10@12%c, 50 bags coffee at 11%c. Oats unchanged and prices nominal for lots on arrival, and the prices from store range from 52@55c. There has been no receipts of wheat and market a good deal unsettled, with sales yesterday of 125 bushels new white at Covington at $1 25; the sale of 3,000 bush re ported by us is to be delivered on the 20th August at $1 10 for new white; we have heard of no sales to-day. There is but little rye offering. Corn market firm at 73@75c and inferior sold yesterday at 70c; the receipts during the last 24 hours have been 2,000 bushels.

NEW YORK, July 25, P. M. Cotton market dull, with sales of 250 bales. Flour quiet, with sales of 6,000 bbls. Wheat market closed firm. Corn firm—sales of 25,000 bush. Mess pork advanced 10c, and is held at $24@ $25. Provisions steady. Sugor heavy. Cof. fee is quiet at 11%c. Butter firm at 15@20c. Oils are unchanged. Lead inactive. Hemp heavy at $170@$180 for rough and $220@$240 for dressed. Spirits turpentine dull Freights inactive.

LAND WARRANTS .- Thompson's New York Bank Note

Reporter says:

For a few days past the call for land warrants has been quite active, and caused an advance; but the supply now is about equal to the demand. We now (July 23) quote:

40 acre Warrants at. 81 10 80 acre Warrants at. 0 94 120 acre Warrants at. 0 90 160 acre Warrants at. 0 94

The New York Express, of Friday, has the following in its money article:

Stocks are not so firm, and the market, under sales of stocks bought at lower figures, is irregular.

Sterling exchange closed firm at 101% 6106%c. The large shipment of specie was wholly unexpected, and will be followed by a considerable sum on Saturday, estimated about $600,000, making $2,000,000 for the week.

Money is in fair supply, and some call loans have been made by banks to brokers at six $70 cent, and among stock houses there is a surplus.

The sales of sugar do not indicate large profits. Parcels have change d hands at a loss of $20 $70 hd.

The sugar speculation drags heavily and the reduction in the duties do se not stimulate wholesale calers to accumulate stock to any degree. Refiners have come into market more freely, but the wholesale grocers, to escape any chance of loss, keep barely stock enough for their daily wants.—They are not encouraged to do more as the same castion in purchasing extends to buyers from the interior and again to the consumers, who have generally imbibed the impression that the new crop will be in market soon enough to make large purchases unnecessary. Consumption being checked by high prices, and great caution being the rule among buyers, the reported small supply is found inadequate to advance quotations—producing, in turn, more readinese to advance quotations—producing, in turn, more readinese to advance quotations—producing, in turn, more readinese to advance quotations—the new crop comes forward. To support this position, it is asserted that the stock from which consumption is to be made, is wholly on the seaboard, and that, even with the diminished use caused by the high prices, the absolute necessities of the business will absorball the stock before new supplies will be at market. As the pork statisties are kept with a good deal of care, and the business in the hands of wealthy houses, the market hae a firmness unknown in articles of which the quantity is in anuch doubt. No article of provisions is produced with more rardidity than pork; and
